Columbus, O., May 9-The Painter bell is dead. The injections agreed upon at the final consultation were administered, but they did not even prolong the agony, and, struggling in the throes of violent death, the bill passed to the uncertain beyond amid circumstances and surroundings decidedly sensational. "He never did like me," 'He's sore and he's been that way ever since the organization of this session." These are some of the emphases injected into the arguments of the author of the bill on the floor of the house during the discussion of the canal-railroad lease proposition. They vere addressed to Mr. Price of Athens county, but the gentleman from the lassic district of the Hocking valley had the votes, and the bill was tabled by a strong and decisive vote, and then, by a vote of 63 to 25, the house efused to reconsider the vote. The Senator From Missouri, the Only Surviving Confederate Senator,

Tells What the Lamented President Said at a Most Critical Moment in the Civil War.

Washington, May 9 .- Discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate, while it scarcely abated in bitterness, took on an historic phase. Mr. Burton (Kan.) referred as instances of atroclous cruelty to the battle of Wounded Knee, to the Mountain Meadow massacre and to the massacre of union soldiers at Fort Pillow, and contender that the action of the American troops in the Philippines was, in most in stances, entirely within the regulamack delivered a scathing denunciation of the conduct of milltary operations in the Philippines, and de nounced General Smith, branding him as "scoundrel" and "murderer," who had dishonored the American army and had done nothing but butcher a whole people. In a sarcastic response Mr. Dollivar (Ia) arraigned Mr. Car-

Mr. Vest (Mo.) called attention to the statement of Mr. Tillman, made Wednesday, that at the historic conference in Hampton Roads in 1864 between President Lincoln, William Seward, secretary of state; Alexander Stephens, vice president of the Confederate states; R. F. Hunter, former United States senator, and John A. Campbell, formerly justice of the United States supreme court, President Lincoln wrote upon a piece of paper, "Save the Union," then handing it to Stephens, said: "Alex, take this paper and fill up for yourselves the conditions of peace between the two countries."

Mr. Vest said the story had been denied by John H. Reagan of Texas, who was the last surviving member of the Confederate cabinet. He knew personally, said Mr. Vest, without having been present at the celebrated interview, that the incident was without the slightest foundation. "If true," said he, "it would place the government and officers of the Confederate states in the category of criminals because it offered the Confederacy all that it ever demanded in the wildest hope of the most extreme partisans of that cause if they would only return to the Union."

"I am today the only surviving member of the 26 gentlemen who acted as Confederate senators," he said. Mr. Vest then stated that what did happen at Hampton Roads, beyond question, was this: Mr. Hunter, addressing President Lincoln, said: "Mr. President, we are instructed to consider no proposition that does not involve the independence of the Confederate States of America," "Then," said Mr. Lincoln, "the interview had as well terminate now, for I must say to you gentlemen, frankly and honestly, that nothing will be accepted from the government at Richmond except absolute and unconditional surrender." Mr. Vest said that this terminated the in-

Dr. Emanuel Baruch, who was Paul Ford's physician, and who was called in at the time of the shooting, said he believed the tragedy was due to mental aberration on the part of Malcolm Ford.

The shooting took place in the library of Paul Leicester Ford's home at 37 East Seventy-seventh street. He was sitting at a table when his brother entered the house. Malcolm is said to have demanded money and to have been refused. The shooting followed. The bullet which killed Paul Ford ertered the left breast, piercing the heart. Malcolm then shot himself. The bullet entered the left breast and pierced the heart in almost the same manner as did the bullet that caused the death of Paul. Johnny O'Donnell Lasted Three Rounds in the Fight in Buffalo.

Biz Mackey, Findlay's fast and furious bantam, has won another decided victory as described in the following dispatch from Buffalo:

After three rounds of terrific slugging, "Biz" Mackey, of Findlay, stood victorious over Johnny O'Donnell, of Buffalo. The blow that completed the work was a right swing which sent O'Donnell through the ropes upon his back. From the start it was sin:ply a question of time how long the Buffalo boy would last. Early in the first round Mackey floored his opponent with a hard right. Arising after taking nine of the count O'Connell made a commendable effort to stem the tide of defeat by rushing Mackey across the ring. # OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their aliments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandsire may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the nerves, makes the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when muscles elastic and supple, the boates strong and the nesh arm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies. but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. # Wanted to Die

Threw Himself Under a C. H. & D. Engine.

Buzz Vorhees, Well Known in Wapakoneta, Commits Suicide.

Divorce Granted by Judge Armstrong to Mrs. Brentlinger. Report of Council Proceedings.

Wapakoneta, O., May 9 .- Buzz Vorbees, one of Wapakoneta's well-known characters, was the victim of self destruction yesterday afternoon between the hours of two and three. He had been around town all day half-drunk and seemed out of humor with everything. Just before committing suicide he paid some money he had borrowed, and bade his friends goodby, telling them they would know where he was going when the next train passed through. Just then a treight engine whistled and he started south on the C. H. & D. and, as the engine came towards him, he threw himself full length before it. His body was pushed along the rails several feet before the wheels passed over him, but he never uttered a sound. The body was cut entirely through at the abdomen and lay in two pieces, one on each side of the rail. He had been threatening suicide in the ferencen, but as this was nothing unusual, ne attention was paid to his threats. He leaves a wife and four small children, and his wife is now sick in bed. The remains were taken in charge by undertaking rooms. DIVORCE GRANTED.

Judge Armstrong, of Celina, was in mony, $1,000, and Mrs. Brentlinger to release her dower interest in the home and abroad. Miss Tudor was ntaintiff's land.

Narrow Escape of John Phillips From Being Buried Alive in a Sewer Ditch.

Celumbus Grove, Ohio, May 9,-Mayor L. B. Williams, councilmen J. C. Kissell, C. H. Busche, A. L. Rockwell and T. V. Meyers are in Columbus, to assist in using their influence against the measure passed by the legislature, prohibiting the hanging of electric lights over railread tracks, at Mrs. J. J. Collins and sen Virgil, of street crossings, and bridges. An effort will be made upon the part of the municipalities of the state to have the legislature reconsider the bill.

While engaged in excavating for the sewer drains at the First Presby-Hugh, who is lying at the point of terian church, John Phillips, one of death, from heart trouble. They left the workmen, was buried beneath a huge pile of earth. But his head protruded, and he was covered for about P. Meily, left for New York city last the depth of five feet. Fellow workmen rescued him from what seemed to be certain death. This is the first accident of any kind which has thas far occurred during the building of the fine new structure.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Core and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones and children and Master Granville Jones formed a party that drove to the big wood, east of here, last night, and spent a very enjoyable evening.

It is because the avand "talk" about each other, all the erage 'bome woman' doesn't under stand. She is usually monarch of her home, absolutely the most important person in it, and she loses the true appreciation of the importance of other people outside it. A man in business is constantly brought in contact with men who are his equals or superiors, who have equal rights with him, whereas a woman may spend two bours a day visiting with callers of her own grade of intelligence as against elxteen spent with the children and the servants. When she does meet men, it is either in the capacity of grocery boys or cierks whose business it is to defer to her opinion, however flogleal, or in a social way, when it isn't worth while to combat her ideas if they happen to be erratic.

Watch ber, and you will see that the ball of the foot is the center upon which the weight of the body swings and that upon the fieel and the foe there is an even balance of the strain, if such it may be called, the beel not being called upon to do more than the toes or the toes more than the heel, while the sole is the medium between the two extremes.

In correct walking the foot is placed evenly upon the surface, with the pressure first upon the beel, then upon the ball of the foot and then upon the toes. From the ball of the foot and the toes the impetus and elasticity of the stride originate.

Many persons in endeavoring to walk correctly make the mistake of putting too much weight upon the heel. This is not as bad as putting too much weight upon the toes. The easiest method of learning how to walk correctly is to pattern after the person who knows how to walk.

To the Manner Born.

The best bred women do not fuss. They take their gowns and their furgloves, and they expect every one else refer to it admiringly, but they also preface their comment with an apology. Their differences with their husbands are not aired; neither are the domestic upheavals caused by the desertion of the cook on wash morning.

The repose of the well bred woman is not the quiet of weakness; it is the calm of trained faculties balanced so nicely that an earthquake may cause a change of color, but will not bring forth a loud cry.

Feminisity's New Word. "Foolish" is a word just now much used by femininity, and, like all the words that the sterner sex takes a fancy to, it is employed in divers ways that lexicographers wet not of. "Please fasten these foolish books!"
